Diabla Spaces

BuGaan Pattanakarn, Bangkok

BuGaan, located in the vibrant Pattanakarn district of Bangkok, Thailand, is a residential project developed by Sansiri PLC. Its four units seamlessly blend modern and classic elements, aiming to redefine the perception of luxury living in the city, which serves as the political, social, and cultural hub of the Indochina and Southeast Asian region.

The residences share a communal outdoor area, centered around a pool as the focal point. Standing out against the gray exterior construction and granite framing the chill-out area, designed to disconnect from the stress of the Thai capital and its frenetic pace, are the furnishings from the Clip collection by José A. Gandía-Blasco Canales for Diabla Outdoor.

"Beauty must be functional in any piece of furniture."

José A. Gandía-Blasco Canales

The sinuous lines of Clip make it the perfect choice for creating a relaxed and informal atmosphere as you leave the pool at BuGaan. Its intense red color, a standout tone in Diabla's extensive palette, creates an attractive contrast that complements the characteristic low-profile design.

The Clip collection, comprising only two elements—a club chair and a table—stands out for its simple yet carefully crafted design, enabling various combinations that can create a relaxed and informal atmosphere. This is perfect for poolside or chill-out areas, as seen in the case of BuGaan. As its name suggests, its aesthetic with spontaneous lines draws inspiration from the flexible curves of office clips and traditional beach chairs renowned for their practicality and comfort.
